State Briefs

HOMINY, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Maude Butler, wife of Robert S. Butler, died this week after two years' illness from pellagra.

ARDMORE, Aug. 29.—The Proctor brothers, charged with killing Roy Hassad, merchant of Ardmore, at that place last week, were held at the district court without bail, at a preliminary hearing before County Judge Winfrey.

SHAWNEE, Aug. 29.—Four boys, being held in jail here for the robbery of the Hirsch's store Monday, were discovered yesterday while attempting to make their escape. They had removed several bricks from the wall of their cell when found.

DURANT, Aug. 29.—The Durant public schools are to open Monday, September 1, whether the new text books are received or not.

ENID, Aug. 29.—Knights Templar from six commanderies will hold a convocation in Enid September 29 and 30.

DURANT, Aug. 29.—The local telephone company will be under the management of a woman benefactor, Mrs. W. J. Gleeson having been named as the head of the Bell company in this city.

Medicine Park was established in 1898 by Senator Thomas and H. A. Lovell of Lawton, with a few exceptions, according to Sheriff Ed Friend, who said he had been the leader in the movement. He was ushered and refused to talk about it, but when the boys were discovered to be planning the robbery, he agreed to have a hearing in the district court. Bonds were set at $10,000 each, but none of the three had given bond this evening.

Armed Oklahoma City, returning to the defenseless town after the robbery had been committed five days ago, with the intent of getting enough money to pay them to rob the State Bank of Meridian yesterday, they hoped to get treatment for their disabilities, from which they had been suffering for some time. One of the men was broken into pieces in the week in search of robbers, but finding none, the boys took shot-gun ammunition. They fled to Oklahoma City hoping to buy the guns for small arms, but failed because of the recently passed ordinance which requires the licensing of all firearms. Later they are said to have sold buyers the guns, there being no buyers willing to pay the money.

Were to Rob Fallin Bank.
It was the original plan to rob the bank at Fallin, but on their way here it seemed easier to them to hold up the Meridian bank. All three of the boys are well known here, having lived here since childhood. Friend said they have a police record of many offenses, while the parents of the other two boys are well respected. They claim that the whole scheme was laid by Gold, they following his lead.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 29.—W. H. Martin, secretary of the Oklahoma Livestock Producers' association, left last night for Washington, where he will appear before congressional committees to protest against the disabilities from which they had been suffering for some time. One of the men was broken into pieces in the week in search of robbers, but finding none, the boys took shot-gun ammunition. They fled to Oklahoma City hoping to buy the guns for small arms, but failed because of the recently passed ordinance which requires the licensing of all firearms. Later they are said to have sold buyers the guns, there being no buyers willing to pay the money.

COAL FAMINE IS PREDICTED
McALESTER Operators Blaming the Government for Shortage.

MCALISTER, Aug. 29.—If the coming winter is as severe as that of 1917, the nation will experience the worst coal famine in its history, locally due to the government's failure to maintain the supply of coal cars. The rail administration has failed both in maintaining the repair on stock turned over to the companies and in procuring new cars. It will be difficult to catch horses this winter.

There are strong judges now in Wildfield and Ardmore City, Kansas and one of 600 members at Newkirk and vicinity. It is believed that the rail administration will make the same mistake again.

The shortage is just beginning to tell on the mines. All have been operating on the summer slack time.

Winter business is just commencing now. In spite of standing orders which would keep the mines going, the operators can operate only about half time now because of lack of heating facilities.

The condition will be aggravated this winter, operators say, because the public has failed to heed the warnings to put in a winter supply of coal during the hot months.
